

Space Park Enology Club Presents
FESS PARKER WINERY & VINEYARDS
WITH SO-CAL REGIONAL SALES MANAGER
AARON AINSWORTH

Friday, September 28th, 2018, 7:30 pm

In 1988, when Fess Parker purchased his 714 acre Foxen Canyon Ranch, his plan was to run cattle, plant a small vineyard consisting of a few acres and perhaps someday, establish a small winery. His dream was to start a family business; a business he could pass on to future Parker generations. Dreams do come true.

Today, Fess' children, Eli Parker and his sister, Ashley, remain involved as stewards of their father's vision. Ashley's husband, Tim Snider, serves as winery President and oversees the sales, marketing and day to day operations of the winery. In 2005, Blair Fox assumed the role of head winemaker.

The home ranch vineyard, Rodney's Vineyard is named for Fess' late son-in-law, Rodney and has a great reputation for producing high quality Rhône varietal wines. And for the Parker winery's Burgundian offerings, the fruit, thanks to a number of long term contracts, comes from some of the finest vineyards in the Sta. Rita Hills.

The Space Park Enology Club is privileged to have Aaron Ainsworth, Fess Parker Winery's Southern California Regional Sales Manager share the evening with us. Aaron will lead us through a tasting of a selection of Fess Parker wines including an initial flight of three different single-varietal white wines along with a flight of Santa Rita Hills Pinot Noir and a final flight of bold red blends. Of note, some of the evening's wines will be small lot, vineyard designate and clonal specific varietals.
