

Space Park Enology Club Presents

EBERLE WINERY

An Evening 40 Years in the Making

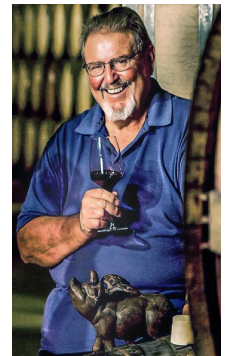

with Stacy Bonnifield, Eberle Winery's Director of Sales & Marketing

Friday, November 15, 2019, 7:30 pm

The Space Park Enology Club is honored to welcome Eberle Winery and Stacy Bonnifield, Director of Sales & Marketing, for an evening of wine tasting with a touch of Paso Robles' wine history to enrich our minds as well as our palates.

Gary Eberle was a Pennsylvania high school all-star football player and received a scholarship to study and play football at Penn State University where he earned a BS Degree in biology. While pursuing his graduate degree at Louisiana State University (LSU), a professor introduced him to Bordeaux wine. A year later, Gary was studying Enology at U.C. Davis. In 1971, he earned his Enology degree and moved to Paso Robles.

Gary's first Eberle label wine was the 1979 Cabernet Sauvignon and since then, he has earned recognition for many firsts including co-founding the Paso Robles Appellation in 1983 and was the first to use Paso Robles Appellation on his wine label. Gary is credited as being first in the U.S. to produce a varietal specific, 100% Syrah and has been called the "The Johnny Appleseed of Syrah" by Wine Spectator magazine.

As Director of Sales & Marketing, Stacy Bonnifield spends a great deal of her professional time traveling the country and spreading the "gospel" of the Eberle brand and showing off the fruits of the winery's labor. We are privileged to have her share her knowledge and passion for the Eberle Winery while she leads us through a tasting of some of Eberle's signature wines. The first flight will be a flight of white wine selections, including their Estate Chardonnay and Mill Road Viognier, to be followed by the evening's second and third flights of red wines, including their Barbera, Zinfandel, Gary Eberle's Steinbeck Vineyard Syrah and their (only produced in select vintages), limited production Reserve Estate Cabernet Sauvignon.
