

Space Park Enology Club Presents:

A Virtual Wine Tasting featuring

Andis Wines

Friday, September 10th at 7:30 pm, via Zoom

with Besmir "Lorenzo" Muslia: Partner / National Sales Manager

Located in the Sierra Foothills, Andis Wines utilizes both traditional and innovative winemaking techniques. Andis' winemaking team of Mark Fowler and consulting winemakers, Philippe Melka & Maayan Koschitzky, have garnered 90+ wine scores in Wine Spectator and Wine Enthusiast.

We are excited to welcome Partner and National Sales Manager, Lorenzo Muslia of Andis Wines to our next Enology Club event. Lorenzo grew up between Albania and Italy. He attended the Polytechnic University of Milan, studying Civil Engineering. His travels around the wine region of Tuscany caused him to fall in love with cooking and wine. He soon realized that wine was not just a liquid in a bottle but a way of life. After working for famous Florentine restaurants, he decided to open his own in 2011 and it was soon rated as one of the region's top ten restaurants. After moving to California, Lorenzo enrolled in the Wine Business Management program at Sonoma State University. "It was a bottle of the 2012 Andis Cabernet Franc that got me hooked on this land," he says. In 2015, Lorenzo joined the Andis team and was soon promoted to National Sales Manager. Today as Partner, he works directly with the winemaking team, putting together the best wines that Andis' vineyards can offer. "Great wines taste as they come from somewhere. Lesser wines taste as they could come from anywhere."

Lorenzo will be presenting a flight of four Andis blends (in order of tasting flight); two bundles to choose from:

Space Park Flight of Blends 3 Pack ~$82 (includes CA tax & shipping, coupon code space):
