Space Park Enology Club Presents:

Stolpman Vineyards with Tom & Peter Stolpman

Friday, October 15th, 2021, 7:30 pm

The Enology Club is thrilled to host another great evening with Tom & Peter Stolpman, owners of Stolpman Vineyards & Winery. They will guide us through a tasting of fabulous red wines from their estate in Ballard Canyon AVA of Santa Barbara County. The tasting covers their signature red classics, including La Cuadrilla red blend dedicated to Ruben Solorzano & crew, and their single varietals Grenache, Sangiovese, and Hilltops Syrah. This great bundle of wines is being offered to us at a significant 33% discount with free shipping.

Over 30 years ago, Tom Stolpman discovered one of the greatest viticultural sites on earth and founded Stolpman Vineyards & Winery. Hidden in the hills of Ballard Canyon, on a Limestone outcropping kissed by the Pacific Ocean wind, this unique land is naturally suited to grow robust Rhone & Italian varietals. In the winery, they prefer native fermentation & minimal manipulation, resulting in natural, vibrant, wines with a true Ballard Canyon flavor.

Stylistically, Ballard Canyon wines incorporate the various aspects of Santa Barbara County: cool-climate marine influences from the Santa Rita Hills in the west, moderated by the warmer climate of Happy Canyon to the east. By virtue of the distinct wind, weather, soil, drainage, and geology of Ballard Canyon, the wines express the broad spectrum of aromas and flavors that only come from growing in the mixed climate of this unique AVA. Ballard Canyon is positioned to become synonymous with great red wines throughout the world.
