

Space Park Enology Club Presents
An Educational Evening of Wine Tasting with Tercero Wines'
Owner & Winemaker, Larry Schaffer
Friday, August 11, 2023, 7:30 pm

For our August virtual event, we are delighted to welcome Tercero Wines with owner, winemaker, and winemaking instructor, Larry Schaffer. Formerly the enologist at Fess Parker Winery, Larry started his Tercero Wines label in 2007 where he works closely with Santa Barbara County vineyard owners, sourcing grapes from acclaimed sites which produce high quality fruit as the foundation for his wines.

When Larry isn't tending to his own wine production, holding court in his tasting room or being a doting father to 13-month-old Georgia Rose, he teaches Wine Production at UC Davis. The son of an elementary school teacher, he says teaching is in his blood and it offers a combination of giving back to his profession as well as learning additional techniques for his own craft. Schaffer thinks "...people take wine way too seriously! If you're in a little village in Italy, you're given the choice of a carafe of red or a carafe of white. There are no labels, no scores, no intimidation." Although very aware of the complexities that go into producing a great bottle, he enjoys helping to enlighten wine drinkers and students to the subtleties of wine and tasting to ease the mystery and mystic of wine.

Larry has selected four wines for our event and generously offered a 30% discount on our tasting flight. We will begin with Carignane, an underrated but delicious Rhone variety followed by an old-world style Cabernet Franc, and then single-vineyard creations of Pinot Noir and Syrah. Join us for some terrific Tercero wines and get a little education in the process!
