Space Park Enology Club presents
Seagrape & Future Perfect Wines
Karen Steinwachs & Sunny Doench Stricker
Friday, August 23rd, 7:30 pm
Sonesta Hotel - Redondo Beach & Marina

Welcome back! After four long years, we will finally stage one of our traditional blind tastings, featuring three flights of mystery wines. We can't wait to see you all in person rather than through the "Zoom" lense.

For this special evening, we welcome back a club favorite, Karen Steinwachs, owner and winemaker of Seagrape Wine Company. Karen was the long-time winemaker at Buttonwood and is now crafting great wine at her very own venture. But wait, there's more. Karen will be joined by her good friend, Sunshine Doench Stricker, owner and winemaker at Future Perfect Wine in Los Olivos.

The following is Karen's description of what you should expect:

"YOUR wine country not only boasts an incredible array of wine types due to its unique topography, but also proudly has the highest percentage of women winemakers on the planet. Welcome to Santa Barbara County, just a few hours north of here! Two of those female grape-herders will be presenting their wines to you tonight, but with a little fun mixed in because... well, we always put a little of that into our wines. Sunshine and I will tag-team our wines but present them to you in a blind format. We are both ex-pats from the South Bay, so that will add a local twist. Expect nine wines - all from Santa Barbara County – and a lot of laughter. You may not have known this, but I can be pretty irreverent at times!"

We will arrange this blind tasting into three flights, each with three wines:

- Whites: Which White is which?
- Pinks: A Rosé by any other name – one is not like the others
- Reds: Summertime cookout Reds
